PURPOSE

The purpose of this policy is to establish the definition and provide guidance on determining whether employment leads to self-sufficiency. In addition, to providing career and training services to individuals who are unemployed, there remains a significant population of job seekers who are underemployed.

POLICY

WIOA requires that the self-sufficiency wage standard will be utilized to determine the eligibility of employed workers to receive funds for training services. Self-sufficiency is referred to as the income needs of the family to meet his/her most basic expenses without public or private assistance.

Northwest Oregon Works (NOW) defines self-sufficiency as family wage before deductions (gross wages) as 200% of the Lower Living Standard Income Level (LLSIL). Up to date information can be located at <https://www.doleta.gov/lisil/>.

An individual who has full-time employment at a pay rate at or above the designated self-sufficiency wage, shall be considered to have achieved employment that allows for self-sufficiency. Therefore, the individual shall be considered to be self-sufficient and unable to receive training services. Regardless of full-time or part-time status, individuals who meet the underemployed status can receive training services.

For employed dislocated worker eligibility, self-sufficiency is defined in relation to a percentage of the layoff wage. Employment that provides the worker a wage that is equal to or greater than 80% of his or her wage at the time of dislocation will be deemed self-sufficient. This is determined by comparing the hourly wage at the time of dislocation to the current hourly wage or comparing the monthly income (total earnings for the month) to the current monthly earnings.

NOW will consider special needs of individuals with disabilities or other barriers to employment when applying self-sufficiency criteria determination. These considerations will be documented and when possible measured within the determination of self-sufficiency.
